

Research assistant

The Chair for International Politics (Department of Political Science) is looking for a research assistant (m/f/d), starting on February, 1st 2021.

The research assistant will participate in the research project “Global autocratic collaboration in times of COVID-19: Game changer or business as usual in Sino-Gulf relations?” (Prof. Dr. Thomas Demmelhuber, University of Erlangen; Julia Gurol, University of Freiburg; Tobias Zumbärgel, Center for Applied Research in Partnership with the Orient).

Further information on the project can be found on <https://www.politik.uni-freiburg.de/medien/pdf/ls-destradi/projectdescription>

Your tasks:

- researching literature and data
- supporting publication projects
- administrative support, preparation of conferences/workshop
- (depending on the corona situation) preparation, transcription and evaluation of interviews.

Requirements:

- motivation and interest in the research subject
- very good knowledge of MS Office (Word, Excel)
- communication skills and organizational talent
- language proficiency in German and English (Arab, Persian or Chinese of advantage but not necessary)
- basic knowledge of the research topic (of advantage)

We offer participation in a young and motivated team, insights into the processes of a research project, flexible working hours, possibility of working from home and participation in conferences and workshops.

Please apply to Julia.gurol@politik.uni-freiburg.de until December, 31st 2020, including letter of motivation, CV and transcript of records. We embrace diversity and welcome all applicants regardless of gender, nationality, ethnicity, sexual orientation and identity.

Interviews will take place between January, 5th and 8th 2021 via video conferencing.
